

When to Call Your Anticoagulation Clinic

You may call your Anticoagulation Clinic at any time of day. If you hear a recording, please leave a message with your name and phone number. We will return your call as soon as we can during clinic hours, weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Call your clinic if you have any questions about your anticoagulation therapy.

Call your clinic if:

- You miss a dose of your anticoagulant medicine.
- Your tablet or syringe looks different when you get your prescription refilled.
- Anyone tells you to stop or change your anticoagulation therapy.
- Your doctor or you have changed your current medicines – including prescription medicines, over-the-counter medicines, herbal or natural products, vitamins, or supplements.
- You have any unusual or prolonged bleeding such as nosebleeds that last longer than 5 minutes, red or dark-brown urine, or red or dark, tarry stools.
- You have more bruising than usual from a trauma or fall.
- You have a fever or an illness with vomiting, diarrhea, infection, pain, or swelling.
- You have been scheduled for surgery, an invasive procedure, or dental work.
- You are pregnant or planning to get pregnant.
- You have any other questions about your anticoagulation therapy.

If you take warfarin, also call the clinic if:

- You are eating a different amount of foods that contain vitamin K.

Urgent Care

If you have an emergency, call 911 right away.

Questions?

Your questions are important. Call your doctor or healthcare provider if you have questions or concerns.

Anticoagulation Clinics:

- University of Washington Medical Center: 206.598.4874
- Seattle Cancer Care Alliance: 206.606.6756
- Harborview Medical Center: 206.744.2976