Ann Dohn, MA, DIO & GME Director, Stanford
Nancy Piro, PhD, Sr Program Manager/Education Specialist, Stanford
March 7, 2019

❖ SPEAKERS: Ann Dohn & Nancy Piro

Neither of the above speakers have any conflicts of interest to report.

Learning Objectives

1. Understand how to use the new Stanford instrument (Guidebook 2.0) that quickly defines the data sets needed for the APE and Self-Study
2. Understand how to leverage the APE Data for Self-Study Reuse
3. Learn how to use the new tool that identifies dropped or unresolved action plan items from Program APEs
4. Learn how to painlessly complete the Self-Study documents and take home an electronic workbook that seamlessly integrates these tools for use at the coordinators' home institutions

Agenda

- ▶ Development of the Self – Study
- ▶ Guidebook 2.0 – Description
 - Leveraging the Data for Self-Study Reuse
 - APE Action Item Tracker
- ▶ Guidebook 2.0 – Discussion

Self-Studies – What are they?

A look back... and a look forward

- ▶ The Self-Study is an objective, comprehensive evaluation of your residency or fellowship program, with the aim of improving it.
 - longitudinal evaluation of the program and its learning environment, facilitated through your APE using the GME Guidebook.
 - ▶ Five year “look” backward and forward
 - ▶ Emphasis on program strengths and “self-identified” areas for improvement (SWOT)
 - “self-identified” vs RRC identified
 - ▶ Six months before the self-study is due, ACGME Requests Core & Subspecialties to Initiate Self-Study

Self-Studies – What are they?

- ▶ To offer context for the Self-Study, there are two new concepts:
 1. exploration of program AIMS
 2. assessment of the program's institutional, local and, regional environment.

- ▶ The focus on AIMS and the program's environmental context is to:
 1. enhance the relevance and usefulness of the program evaluation
 2. support improvement that goes beyond compliance with the requirements.

Self-Study Visit Format

- ▶ Core Residency Site Visits = One Day
- ▶ Subspecialties = ½ Day each
- ▶ Site Visit Team will be 2 - 3 Site Visitors
 - Multiple site visits will be going on at the same time

ACGME Self-Study Overview

- ▶ The ACGME has placed added responsibility for oversight of subspecialty programs on the core program and sponsoring institution.
 - The self-study group for the core program should coordinate activities with the self-study groups for any dependent subspecialty programs to:
 - ▶ take advantage of common dimensions
 - ▶ explore potential synergies
 - ▶ reduce the burden that may be associated with conducting an independent self-assessment.

ACGME INITIAL SELF-STUDY STEPS (Part 1)

Step 1: Assemble the Self-Study Group

Step 2: Engage Program Leader and Constituents in a Discussion of Program Aims

Step 3: Aggregate and Analyze Data from your APES and the Self-Study to Create a Longitudinal Assessment of Program Strengths and Areas for Improvement (Weaknesses)

Step 4: Examine the Program's Environment for Opportunities and Threats

Step 5: Obtain Stakeholder Input on SWOT to Prioritize Actions

Step 6: Interpret the Data and Aggregate Self-Study Findings

Step 7: Discuss and Validate the Findings with Stakeholders

Step 8: Develop a Succinct Self-Study Document for Use in Further Program Improvement and as Documentation for the Program's 10 Year Site Visit

Step 1. Assemble the Self Study Group

- ▶ Membership: The members of the Program Evaluation Committee (PEC) are the ideal core foundation for your self-study group.
 - They are familiar with the Annual Program Evaluation process and the resulting action plans and improvement efforts.
 - Including the program coordinator is also recommended.
 - CCC representative: It may be beneficial to include a member of the Clinical Competency Committee (CCC) with the focus on educational outcomes.

Step 2: Discuss Program Aims

Aims:

- are the program's and institutional leaders' views of key expectations for the program
- how your program is unique from other programs in the country
- may focus on the types of trainees recruited into the program, training for particular careers (clinical practice, academics, research, primary/generalist care), and other objectives, such as care for underserved patients, health policy or advocacy, population health, or generating new knowledge.
- should generally take a longer-term strategic view, but they also may change over time, in response to factors such as local or national demand for a resident workforce with certain capabilities, or new opportunities to train residents and fellows in a different setting.

Step 3a: Create a Longitudinal Assessment of Program Improvement

Aggregate and Analyze Data to Generate a Longitudinal Assessment of the Program's Strengths and Weaknesses (Areas for Improvement)

What Is A SWOT Analysis?

Aim

It is a way to differentiate programs.
The self-study will ultimately evaluate program effectiveness in meeting the aim.
Moves beyond improvement solely based on compliance with minimum standards.

Strengths

It is important to acknowledge and celebrate positive aspects of the program.
What should definitely be continued (important question in an environment of limited resources)?

Weaknesses

Look for citations, areas for improvement, and other information from ACGME.
Identify in the Annual Program Evaluation and other program/institutional data sources.

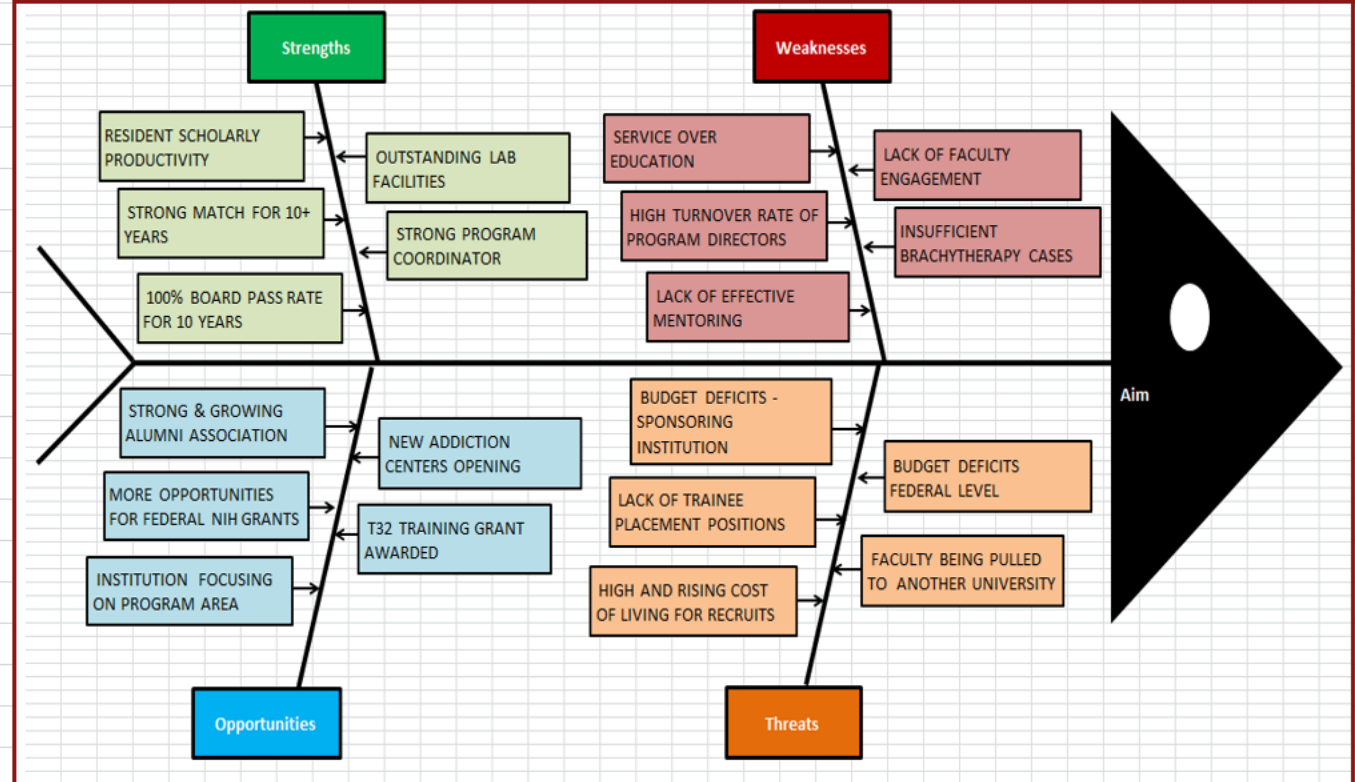

Opportunities

They are external attractive factors that will contribute to the program flourishing, if acted upon.
What are capabilities for the future involving the program, and how can the program capitalize on them?
Has there been a recent change in the program's context that creates an opportunity?
Are these opportunities ongoing, or is there a narrow window for them? How critical is the timing?

Threats

Are there external factors that affect the program and may place it at risk?
While the program cannot fully control its threats, it's beneficial to have plans to mitigate their effect:
What are changes in resident's specialty choice, regulation, financing, or other factors that may affect the future success of the program?
Are there challenges or unfavorable trends in the immediate context that may affect the program?

Step 3b: Strengths and Weaknesses (SWOT)

3b. Examine Strengths and Weaknesses (Internal) – Inside YOUR Program

- Strengths Program factors that are likely to have a positive effect on (or be an enabler to) achieving your program's aims are strengths.
 - Important to acknowledge and celebrate
 - What should definitely be continued (important question in an environment of limited resources)
- Weaknesses (Areas for Improvement)
 - Program factors that are likely to have a negative effect on (or be a barrier to) achieving your program's objectives are weaknesses
 - Citations, areas for improvement and other information from ACGME
 - The Annual Program Evaluation and other program/institutional data sources

Step 4: Opportunities and Threats (SWOT)

4. Examine Opportunities (External) - Outside YOUR Program

- Opportunities - Factors that favor the program, that the program may take advantage of and leverage
 - External Factors that are likely to have a positive effect on achieving or exceeding your program's objectives not previously considered are called opportunities.
 - ▶ What are capabilities for further evolving the program; how can the program capitalize on them?
 - ▶ Has there been recent change in the program's context that that creates an opportunity?
 - ▶ Are these opportunities ongoing, or is there a narrow window for them? How critical is the timing?

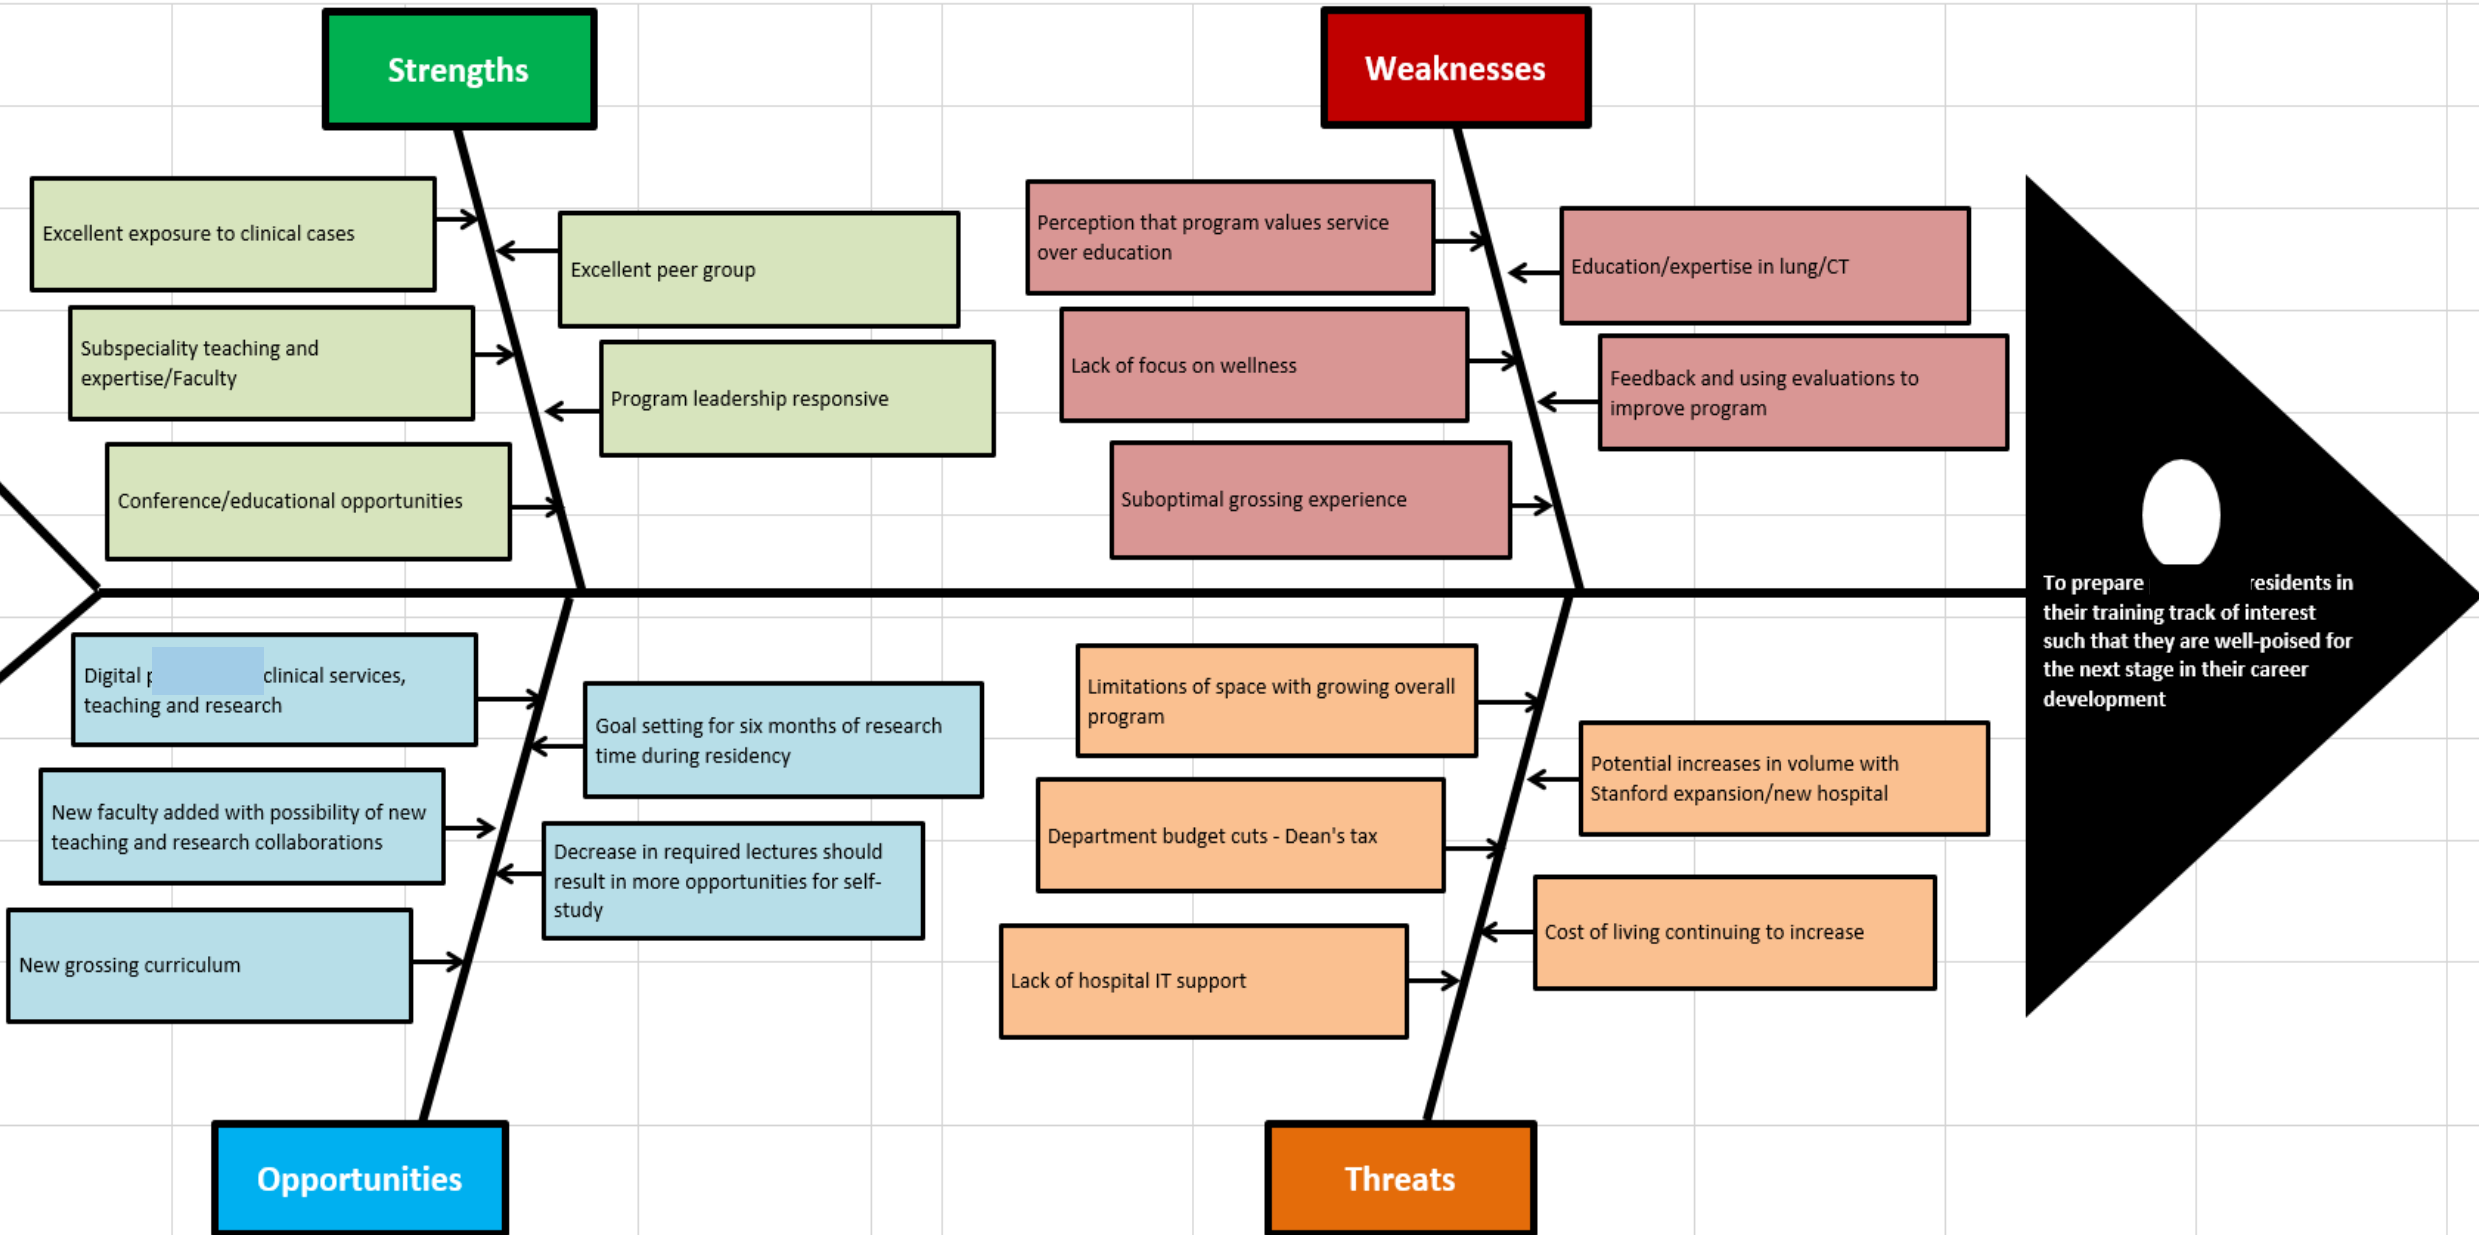

Step 4: Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats (SWOT)

4. Examine Threats (External) - Outside YOUR Program

► Threats

- also are largely beyond the control of the program, and like opportunities, come in many forms.
 - could result from a change in support for education at the national level, changing priorities at the institutional or state levels, or from local factors, such as erosion of a primary ambulatory system based on voluntary faculty.
- The benefit of assessing program threats is that plans can be developed to mitigate their effect(s).

ACGME INITIAL SELF STUDY Meeting: Step 4 – SWOT

Step 5: Obtain Stakeholder Input on SWOT

Obtain stakeholder input

- The data should be confirmed and augmented by information from program stakeholders (residents/fellows, faculty members, others as relevant).
- For some programs, important information may include the perceptions of representatives from other specialties who interact with the residents or fellows.
- To collect this information, the program may use surveys, meetings with residents/fellows, or a retreat.
- Feedback from recent graduates could also provide useful data on the program's educational effectiveness.

Step 6: Interpret the Data and Aggregate Self-Study Findings

Interpret the data and aggregate the self-study findings

- The next step is to interpret the aggregated data from the self-study.
- Specific elements of the self-study findings will include:
 - ▶ establishing a working set of program aims
 - ▶ listing key program strengths
 - ▶ prioritizing among the self-identified areas for improvement to select those for active follow-up, and define the specific improvement activities
 - ▶ discussing opportunities that may enhance the program, and develop plans to take advantage of them
 - ▶ discussing threats identified in the self-study, and develop plans to mitigate their impact

Step 7: Discuss and Validate the Findings with Stakeholders

Discuss the findings with stakeholders

- The self-study findings from Step 6 should be shared with faculty members and residents/fellows.
- This step should validate the findings and improvement priorities chosen by the self-study group with these key stakeholders.

Step 8:

Develop a succinct self-study document for use in further program improvement and as documentation for the program’s 10-year site visit

What Is A SWOT Analysis?

Aim

It is a way to differentiate programs.

The self-study will ultimately evaluate program effectiveness in meeting the aim.

Moves beyond improvement solely based on compliance with minimum standards.

Strengths

It is important to acknowledge and celebrate positive aspects of the program.

What should definitely be continued (important question in an environment of limited resources)?

Weaknesses

Look for citations, areas for improvement, and other information from ACGME.

Identify in the Annual Program Evaluation and other program/institutional data sources.

Opportunities

They are external attractive factors that will contribute to the program flourishing, if acted upon.

What are capabilities for the future involving the program, and how can the program capitalize on them?

Has there been a recent change in the program's context that creates an opportunity?
Are these opportunities ongoing, or is there a narrow window for them? How critical is the timing?

Threats

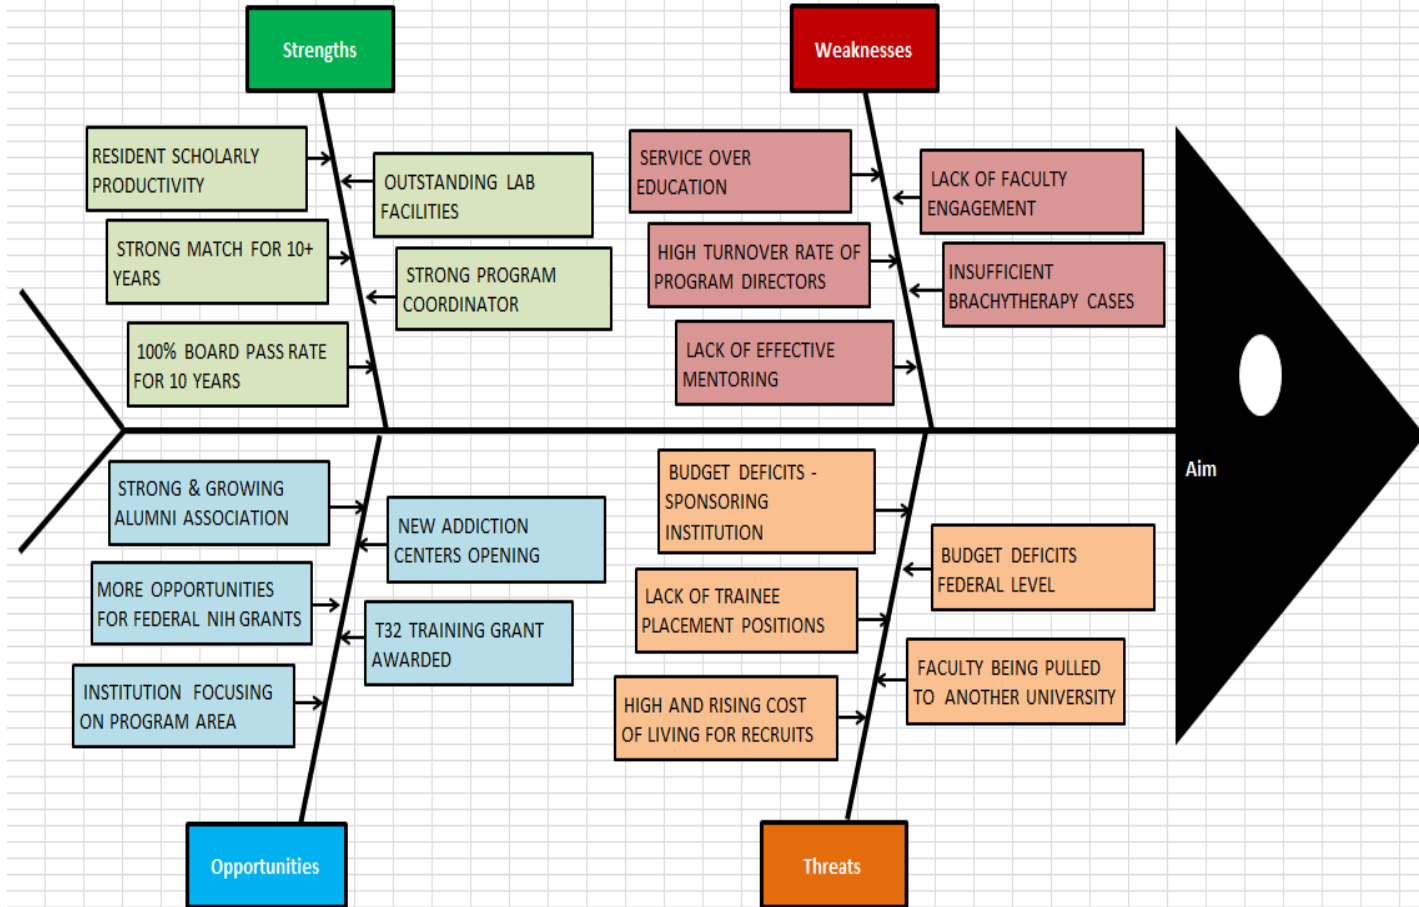

Are there external factors that affect the program and may place it at risk?

While the program cannot fully control its threats, it's beneficial to have plans to mitigate their effect:

What are changes in resident's specialty choice, regulation, financing, or other factors that may affect the future success of the program?

Are there challenges or unfavorable trends in the immediate context that may affect the program?

Directions

This guidebook has been updated to seamlessly integrate between years and will automatically accumulate issues into a 5 year aggregate report

- 1. Enter information for Date, Program, and Aim
- 2. Enter information for Strengths, Weaknesses & Citations, Opportunities, and Threats. Inputted information will also be collected into Fishbone Diagram
- All citations must be inputted into "Weaknesses & Citations" and are high priority
- 3. Issues from previous years will be transferred over to "Last Years Issues" column. Update issues marked as continuing in "Last Year's Continuing Issues" column and use drop-down box to mark issue as "Resolved", "Continuing", and "To Be Dropped". Update "Last Year's Dropped Issues" table with reason for dropping issue.
- 4. Issues for "Current Year's Issues" column is collected from "Weaknesses & Citations (Internal)". Continue to fill out the remaining columns of information (e.g. Description, Proposed Actions, etc.). Use drop-down box for marking issue as "Resolved", "Continuing", and "To Be Dropped"
- 5. All issues from the past 5 years will be aggregated into "5 Year Aggregate" sheet. For "Continuing Issues" table, please fill out "Final outcome" (using drop-down box) and "Description". Verify aggregate report with issues from each year to ensure all data have transferred correctly
- 6. Cumulative report on top will count how many issues were marked as "Resolved", "Continuing", and "To Be Dropped"
